Heineken Malaysia (HEIM MK)

2Q25: Below Expectations; Uncertainty Clouds Consumption

Heineken's 1H25 results missed expectations. Overall, 1H25 sales volume declined by a mid-single digit, dragged by persistently soft consumer sentiment and the earlier CNY timing. Going forward, costs are expected to rise slightly as Heineken invests in internal operations. However, while near-term prospects appear muted, we anticipate sales volume picking up, leading up to VMY 2026. Maintain BUY with a lower target price of RM28.10.

RESULTS

- 1H25 earnings below expectations. Heineken Malaysia (Heineken) reported a core net profit of RM206.3m (-3.4% yoy) on revenue of RM1.3bm (-3.8% yoy). This is below expectations, making up only 44% of both our and consensus' forecasts. The negative deviation stemmed largely from a weaker-than-expected sales volume. A 40 sen interim dividend was announced, unchanged yoy.

ANALYST(S)

Jack Lai Yuan Khai
+603-2147 1983
jacklai@uobkayhian.com

- Operating costs on the rise. According to a statement by its parent company, Heineken's sales volume declined by mid-single digit, largely due to the earlier Chinese New Year (CNY) and cloudy consumer sentiment. Uncertainty regarding subsidy rationalisation has kept consumer spending relatively muted resulting in a weaker sales volume for Heineken. The group has also begun investing into its internal processes, developing digital infrastructure for data management and to support operations long-term. Margins were minorly compressed as a result, narrowing by 0.6-0.9ppt. Heineken also appears to have lost 0.6ppts of market share during 1H25; however, they still hold over 60% of the overall market.

STOCK IMPACT

- Softness in the middle months... We expect consumer sentiment to remain muted in coming months. The lack of clarity regarding proposed rationalisation of subsidies (eg RON 95) and uncertainty on the macroeconomic side stemming from the US' shifting policy has resulted in consumer spending remaining relatively conservative during 1H25 which we expect will continue into early-2H25. The on-trade segment especially has been pressured by declining footfall as the shift to off-trade consumption post-COVID has remained.
- ...but tourism remains a bright spot. Tourist arrivals in Malaysia have risen 20.4% yoy from the Jan-to-May period. Arrivals from China in particular saw a 38.8% increase yoy as supportive policies such as the extension of the visa-free travel period has boosted Malaysia's popularity as a holiday destination. We believe tourism remains a bright spot for the sector as we expect volumes to gradually pick up closer to year-end ahead of the Visit Malaysia 2026 (VMY 2026) campaign.
- Pro-health tax hangs overhead. The proposed extension of the pro-health tax currently applied to sugary drinks to cover alcohol and tobacco also represents a headwind for the group. Based on our channel checks, details are still in the preliminary phases with players unsure if the extension will be a reclassification of an existing excise or additional tax. Either way, we remain wary of any signals of an effective excise increase; while it is likely to be passed through to consumers, sales volume is expected to be hit as a result.

EARNINGS REVISION/RISK

- We cut our 2025F/2026F/2027F earnings by 4%/2%/2% respectively, imputing lower sales volume and slightly lower margins.

VALUATION/RECOMMENDATION

- Maintain BUY with a lower DCF-based target price of RM28.10. We use a WACC estimate of 7.8% and terminal growth rate of 2.7% to arrive at our fair value estimates. Our DCF-derived target price implies 19.0x 2025F PE, on par with its five-year mean. The stock offers a solid dividend yield of 5.5-6.2% for 2025-27, based on a 100% payout.

ENVIRONMENTAL, SOCIAL, GOVERNANCE (ESG) UPDATES

• Environmental
- Water management.	Water efficiency has gradually improved over the years. It is now 16% more efficient relative to 2014.
- Emissions.	Zero waste to landfill. Aims to reduce CO2 emissions by 40% in production compared with 2008.
• Social
- Product services responsibility.	More than 10% of Heineken's media budget is committed to advocating responsible consumption.
• Governance
- Board gender diversity.	Women are well-represented on the board, with a 57:43 male to-female ratio.
- Management gender diversity.	Among employees, Heineken has a 50:50 male-to-female ratio in middle to senior management positions.
